

May 2019

From May 15th to May 18th, our team held a Building Science Thermologist Course here at our Institute's main campus in Bowling Green, KY. Students learned all about the Science of Infrared & got some hands-on experience with the FLIR imagers!

Each student left class with a Building Science, Energy Loss, & Block Wall Thermologist certification. Now, they are ready to take their newfound knowledge and begin working it into their business!

Congratulations to our Building Science Graduates!
